

Q1. What does this website do?

A1. Courserizer is a website that helps you find the best Udemy courses based on advanced metrics. It allows you to compare courses on Udemy, analyze them in depth, and identify the course that best suits your needs—so you don't have to go through the hassle yourself.

Q2. Who are you?

A2. I am Korsy, your AI assistant. I'm happy to help you with any queries you might have.

Q3. Who made this website?

A3. This website was created by a team of two—Anurag Panda and his teammate, Archi Priyadarsini Swain, from ITER, SOA.

Q4. How can I find the best course?

A4. Hover over the “Get Started” section in the navigation bar and select “How to Use” for instructions on finding the best course.

Q5. How can I contact the creators?

A5. Navigate to the Contact section in the navigation bar to send a personalized message to the creators or email us at courserizer@gmail.com.

Q6. What are the advanced metrics used? (Or, What metrics are used?)

A6. The metrics for course evaluation are:

- 1. Value Score (VS)
- 2. Content Efficiency Ratio (CER) – compares course content length to price
- 3. Advanced Course Score (ACS)

If you want to know more about these metrics, go to the "Procedures" tab by hovering over “Get Started.”

Q7. Does this work on other course websites?

A7. Currently, this service works only on Udemy. Our team may expand it in the future.

Q8. How many courses can I compare?

A8. You can compare and analyze as many courses as you like.

Q9. What are the different pricing options?

A9. There is no cost—everything is available for free.

Q10. Can I create an account for myself?

A10. We are currently working on authentication, and you will be able to create an account in the future.
